

KERR'S PITCHING BEATS THE REDS

Cincinnati Loses Third Game In World's Series To Chicago By Score of 3 To 0

The Score By Innings

(By Associated Press)

Chicago, Oct. 3.—Kerr's phenomenal pitching gave the White Sox the victory in the third world series game here today, the score being 3 to 0. Kerr allowed the Cincinnati Reds three hits, scattered through as many innings, and one base on balls, and at no time during the entire game were they even in a dangerous position to score. Fisher pitched fair ball for Cincinnati but his fielding was not so good, an error by him being a contributing factor in the White Sox scoring. The Sox, however, obtained seven hits, and several of them were at fairly opportune times.

The line up:
Chicago—Liebold, rf; E. Collins 2b; Weaver, 3b; Jackson, lf; Felsch, cf; Gandil, 1b; Risberg, ss; Schalk, c; Kerr, p.

BASE BALLS USED IN EACH GAME COSTS $80

(By Associated Press)

Eighty dollars for baseballs for each game in the World's series! That sounds big, but nevertheless, that is approximately what it will cost to furnish the principal item for the baseball classic this year.

As in other things, the high cost has hit baseballs, which now bring $20 a dozen. It is estimated four dozen balls will be used in each game. On this basis it is decided to play nine games in the series, and if it becomes necessary to run the entire series, the cost will be $1,800 for balls alone.

The reason that so many are used is because balls fouled into the stands or crowd are seldom returned. During an ordinary game, however, most of the balls which leave the playing field, find their way back.

Manufacturers blame increased prices paid for materials and the high cost of labor for the present price. Horsehide used in covering the baseballs has increased in cost during the past three years about 250 percent. The wool yarn has jumped 200 percent in three years. The official ball of the National League, is made with a cork center. The price of this cork has doubled and a special thread used has increased almost three times. The cork center ball patented August 31, 1909. It weighs 5 ounces and is 9 inches in circumference. This ball will be used in all games played in the National League ball park during the series. Another ball, similarly made, and adopted by the American League, will be used in all contests in the junior league ball park.

It is estimated the American Federation of Labor, with which the four brotherhoods are not affiliated has sought to name all four delegates to represent them and the 14 other railroad unions.

WELL KNOWN DEMOCRAT Former Internal Revenue Collector Judge Hughes Dies In Louisville

Many warm friends here, among Democrats and others in business life, regretted to learn of the death at Louisville of Judge John W. Hughes, former county judge of Mercer county and for the past seven years Internal Revenue Collector at Danville. He was taken to Louisville early in September. He improved several days ago and attending physicians expressed hope of his recovery.

J. Taylor Hughes, his son, was married Wednesday near Danville, to Miss Margaret Harding. Immediately after the wedding ceremony the young man was apprised of his father's weakened condition. With his bride he hastened to the sanatorium.

Mrs. Alma Robinson Hughes, wife of Judge Hughes, and Chas. Sullivan, of Versailles, a life-long friend, were at the bedside with the son. A native of Kentucky, Judge Hughes began his career as a school teacher. He was admitted to the bar 30 years ago. He was judge of the Mercer county court for fifteen years and under President Wilson's first administration was collector of internal revenue in the 8th congressional district with headquarters in Danville.

The body was taken to Harrodsburg Friday for burial.

PHONE RATES UP AGAIN TONIGHT

Councilman Investigating Committee Will Report At A Special Meeting

The city council was called to order in regular meeting Thursday evening by Mayor L. P. Evans. Councilmen Terrill and Powell were absent, and the business brought before the body for consideration was soon transacted.

Mayor Evans stated that McLane Bros., who were awarded contract for sewerage the city, had asked the council to consider a proposition to rent the city's road roller to them by the day. After a discussion as to a reasonable rental charge, it was decided to allow them the use of the roller at $10 per day, and the machine to be returned to the city in as good condition as they found it.

The question of the telephone rates was brought up again, the telephone company having asked the council to appoint a committee of three to investigate the present conditions as to their expense and earnings in the city of Richmond, and report back to the council at this meeting their findings. Councilmen O'Neil, Terrill and City Attorney Joe P. Chenault were appointed on this committee. Councilman O'Neil stated to the council that the attorney for the telephone company was unable to be present at this council meeting, and asked that a special meeting be held Friday night, when the company would make an appeal to the council to allow the present increased rates stay in effect for the next year. The request was granted, and Mayor Evans said he hoped that the meeting Friday night would be largely attended by citizens of Richmond in order that they might hear the report of the telephone company.

Councilman O'Neil called attention of the council to the expenses of the city in keeping its horses, as the horse feed amounted to $60 for the month of September, and that it was his opinion that the new firetruck would eliminate this expense of feeding horses, etc. The street commissioner was appointed to investigate this matter, and report to the council at an early meeting.

A building permit was extended Ben Hurst for the erection of a $3600 residence on Walnut street.

Upon the motion that all bills be paid as audited, the council adjourned to meet again tonight.
